QUEEN MIRI

OVERVIEW.

With 18 palatial suites for 36 guests, a 12m (40ft) indoor heated seawater pool, a movie theatre, a beauty spa, a sauna and a gym, the 92m (310.8ft) QUEEN MIRI is no ordinary megayacht. Designed to accommodate larger groups and offer something for everyone, QUEEN MIRI can host you and your guests for special life events or just relaxing holidays with your family and friends.

Days on board QUEEN MIRI are often spent on the vast sun deck. Here, the forward jacuzzi, sunpad, and seating area create a huge social hub for everyone on board to gather. Further aft, there is a large wet bar area, cafe seating, and a huge sunlounger area. On the bridge deck below, there is a spacious al fresco dining area seating 36 guests at two long tables. Forward from here is the sky lounge, where you can enjoy a drink from the bar, play cards, watch sports on TV, catch up on conversation or just admire your surroundings in air-conditioned comfort.

Moving down to the upper deck, there is a full gym and children's softplay area, while you run, row, or lift weights, your children can be close by enjoying their private padded play. If the gym sounds like too much work, you can head to the lower deck and the wellness suite. Here you'll find a steam room, a sauna, and a full beauty spa, including a hair and nail room.

Aftmost on the lower deck is QUEEN MIRI's beach club. Here, the drive-in tender garage converts to a 12m (40ft) heated seawater pool. The fold-down transom and sea terraces let you enjoy the outdoors and views from inside. From here, you can alight to enjoy the wonder of QUEEN MIRI's toy box and her six jetskis, four SeaBobs, diving and snorkelling equipment, an inflatable slide, three SUPs and all manner of towable inflatables. If all that wasn't enough, you can enjoy hours of gravity-defying fun on the waterjet-powered Flyboard.

In the evenings, guests gather in the main deck lounge, enjoying cocktails and aperitifs and perhaps a game or two of pool before heading forward to the formal dining area. QUEEN MIRI's head chef and their team will impress you and your guests night after night with their culinary talents. From here, you can head to the cockpit with a digestif or up to the sun deck to take in the stars with your loved ones. Alternatively, you might decide to head to the movie theatre or retreat to your suite. How you spend your time on this fantastic mega yacht is up to you.
